

Fig.5.4: The proton flux around Venus which is estimated using the CREME model. At the time of a flare event, it is monotonous reduction as it becomes high energy. At the time of quiet time, it has an extremum near GeV energy.